When an overtime meal is not provided, the Employer shall provide the Employees:

The Employer will employ a minimum of twenty percent (20%) apprentices, per Union, unless varied by mutual agreement between the Employer and Union as job conditions warrant. The parties to the agreement recognize that the above established apprentice to journey person ratio is contingent upon the availability of apprentices through the local union hall.

The Employer will follow the policies established in the Local Agreement with respect to the granting of pay increments. Should the apprentice be requested by the Employer to delay their school block, he or she will be paid their full increment upon completion of appropriate work hours. Any delayed schooling must be approved by the Local Union apprenticeship authority.

The Employer will provide a list of such individuals to the Local Union for recall. Employees may be recalled no more than two (2) times within a rolling twelve (12) month period.

Apprentices returning from trade school will have thirty (30) calendar days from completion of school, or apprenticeship training, to return. This is not considered a recall.

- 20.201 It is understood that the Employer has provided site specific training at the Irving site applicable to certain individuals trained at the Employer or Irving's expense. The Employer may request these individuals by name within thirty (30) calendar day of lay-off, should they be on the out of work list.

20.202 Employer Online Orientation & Onboarding

If an Employer requires an Employee to complete online orientation and on-boarding, where applicable, the Employer shall estimate a reasonable amount of time to complete the online orientation and on-boarding where applicable. The Employer shall pay an allowance for completing the course(s) equal to that time estimate, to a maximum of eight (8) hours, multiplied by the Employee's straight time hourly rate.

20.203 Client Online Orientation & Onboarding

Employees will be compensated for the prescribed amount of time, multiplied by their straight time total package hourly rate, for completing any Owner/Client online orientation, onboarding or basic training courses required of an Employee.

The selection and retention of foreperson will be the responsibility of the Employer. The appointment of foreperson in charge of composite or mixed crews will take into account the nature of the work to be done.

21.400 Project maintenance conditions do not always justify adherence to craft lines which, in itself, does not establish precedent or change the appropriate jurisdiction of the crafts involved. Composite crews may be formed where conditions warrant, but this is not to be construed under regular operating conditions as the Employer's prerogative to assign employees out of their usual skill classification.

ARTICLE 22.000 LOCKOUT AND WORK STOPPAGE

APPENDIX F

CLARIFICATION LETTER REGARDING FOREPERSON PROVISION IN GPMA & NMA COLLECTIVE AGREEMENTS

Provisions Governing Forepersons

The appointment and governance of forepersons, including General Forepersons, are explicitly detailed in the respective articles of the GPMA and NMA Collective Agreements. Specifically, forepersons are governed by Article 11.300 in the GPMA and Article 21.000 in the NMA. Under these provisions, the responsibility for the appointment of forepersons, including determining their number, resides solely with the employer. This autonomy allows employers to assess and appoint forepersons/general foreperson based on operational needs and specific project requirements.

There are no restrictions to these appointments based on local union or travel card designation. The distinction would be during layoff the employer would follow the preference as outlined in both the NMA and GPMA agreements.

Standalone Nature of the GPMA and NMA Agreements

It is important to note that the GPMA and NMA are standalone agreements. Each operates independently and does not revert back to local construction reference agreements unless explicitly stated within the text of the GPMA or NMA. This ensures that the terms and conditions outlined in these agreements are applied directly and consistently, without unintended influence from local agreements. Where the GPMA or NMA identifies a need to refer to local construction reference agreements, such instances are clearly specified and limited in scope.

We hope this letter provides clarity regarding the provisions outlined in the GPMA and NMA Collective Agreements on forepersons. Should you have any further questions or require additional information, please do not hesitate to reach out.
